Summarization

As a recent graduate with a degree in computer science , I possess outstanding expertise in my field. I am dedicated to staying abreast of the evolving job market demands by continuously enhancing my skill set through both courses and hands-on training. Additionally, I maintain an exceptional commitment to diligent study and practice.

Experience

I bring experience in networking, particularly with the CCNA certification, having initiated my study and practical work in this area on February 13th at The Hope International Company.
